

SUNWOLVES AND KINGS ALL GEARED UP TO PLAY FIRST SUPER RUGBY 2017 MATCH IN SINGAPORE

SINGAPORE, 2 MARCH 2017 – The HITO-Communications SUNWOLVES and Kings have arrived in Singapore, and are all set for their exhilarating Super Rugby match this Saturday at the Singapore National Stadium.

At the photo-call event today at One Fullerton, players from SUNWOLVES and Kings talked about the teams' mood and preparation in the lead up to this weekend's clash. They also had the chance to get up close and personal with the Super Rugby Trophy that is on tour in Singapore. The 13.5kg chrome and gold plated trophy designed to symbolise the prestige, grandeur and resilience of one of the world's toughest sporting competition came into use last year with the expansion of Super Rugby, and is in Singapore for the first time.

“We have been practising really hard and would like to make sure that whatever we did in practice is incorporated on match day. The players in Kings are pretty big and we will be adopting quick and low play against them”, said SUNWOLVES’ stand off Junpei Ogura.

“We will be focusing on fixing some of the mistakes that we made last week to have a solid set-piece. The plan is to make as little mistake as possible and we’re really looking forward to this weekend”, said King’s new star player for 2017, Super Rugby-winning prop Ross Geldenhuys.

Tickets for the 2017 Super Rugby matches in Singapore are priced from $30 onwards and can be purchased via the Sports Hub Tix website www.sportshubtix.sg, hotline +65 3158 7888, Sports Hub Tix Box Office at Singapore Indoor Stadium and all SingPost outlets (see Appendix A for ticketing information).

This year, Singapore will host three of the SUNWOLVES Super Rugby 2017 home matches at the National Stadium against South Africa’s Kings, Stormers and Sharks, starting with the first match on 4th March, 25th March and 20th May. ABOUT SUPER RUGBY

Super Rugby is the Southern Hemisphere's pre-eminent rugby tournament, featuring 18 teams from Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Argentina and Japan.

In 2016, the evolution of Super Rugby continued with three new sides introduced to an expanded four-conference model that boosts the rivalry and passion of previous seasons, driving Super Rugby into an exciting new era. The Kings from South Africa returned to the fray, along with new teams: the Jaguares from Argentina; and the SUNWOLVES from Japan.

ABOUT THE HITO-COMMUNICATIONS SUNWOLVES

The HITO-Communications SUNWOLVES is the first Asian team in the expanded Super Rugby league and is co-based in both Japan and Singapore. In the upcoming 2017 Super Rugby matches, SUNWOLVES will be playing a total of 15 matches, with three out of seven of their home matches at the Singapore National Stadium – against the Kings (4 March 2017), the Stormers (25 March 2017) and the Sharks (20 May 2017).

SUNWOLVES has 54 players for the 2017 season, with 33 newcomers to the team, including Japan national team stars scrum-half Fumiaki Tanaka and back Kotaro Matsushima. Among these 33 newcomers, 21 have earned caps for Japan or other Super Rugby teams.

21 players, including this season's co-captains Ed Quirk and Harumichi Tatekawa, hooker Shota Horie, locks Hitoshi Ono and Liaki Moli, stand-off Yu Tamura, backs Derek Carpenter and Riaan Viljoen returned from last season's SUNWOLVES team.
